

'Nick is a very enthusiastic and experienced campaigner. He would make a great MP.' Chloë Smith MP

- Cambridge needs someone with experience.
- Cambridge needs someone who will fight its cause in the heart of Government.
- Cambridge needs a seasoned campaigner who will win.

Nick Hillman

Putting Cambridge first

- I have worked in local schools, so I understand the needs of young people and public sector staff in Cambridge
- I have lived in central Cambridge, and I cycle, drive and use public transport, so I understand local transport pressures
- I work on university policy for the Conservative Party and was a postgraduate in Cambridge, so I understand the needs and concerns of local students

It is because Cambridge is our favourite place that my wife and I held our wedding reception in the heart of the city earlier this year. We have pledged to move back to Cambridge this month.

Winning in Cambridge

- I have been a Conservative activist for almost two decades and know how to campaign effectively – in person, on the web and by building a united team
- I will campaign on the issues that matter most to voters. My top five priorities are:
  - improving the economy
  - raising educational standards
  - reducing poverty
  - easing local transport problems
  - tackling anti-social behaviour

Putting Cambridge's interests at the heart of Government

Cambridge does not receive its fair share of national resources. My past experience means I know how to put the city's case at the heart of the next Government.

- I have four years' experience working in business, for private pension firms
- I have five years' experience teaching History in secondary schools
- I have six years' experience on the frontline of politics at Westminster

I will fight a clean campaign focussing on policies not personalities.
